

Things You Should Know

Consider what's at stake with any major construction project. Did you know most room additions will run between $150.00 to $250.00 dollars per square foot? Average cost of most homes runs between $350.00 to $450.00 dollars per square foot.

Compatibility between you and the Contractor is of value as you will have a close working relationship for your project's duration.

Things to consider as your bids come are reliability, quality of work, and on-time performance. Work prices should not be your only criteria for selection. These factors are best determined by interviews with the contractor's references, do not shortchange this process. Ask to see photographs and projects. If possible, make a visit to one of the sites; examine the workmanship; and ask questions about the professional's work practices, punctuality, and cleanliness. These may seem minor before the project begins, but they can quickly become major issues when you are in the throes of construction.
